

Terms and Conditions of the Association Membership.

The purpose of this Association is to provide education of, and share our personal experiences in the legal system. Study of the Law is an ongoing process. The laws differ from jurisdiction to jurisdiction, and change based upon recent decisions of the various courts and legislative efforts.

Your access to the membership will provide you with the benefits of information on a wide variety of subjects. As your legal education grows you will have access to well-settled and long-held court decisions, information on how the courts operate, and research in various aspects of the law. You will also learn from the legal research of many people across this great land. Some are just beginning, like yourself; others have had 10, 20 or more years studying the law, court case decisions, statutes, codes and regulations. We are here to help you with your education in the law and with the research to put together your own legal documents to protect your rights, secured by the Constitution and its Bill of Rights, circa 1791.

All this is available simply for membership in the Association, and are available for your minimum, regular monthly donations based on your needs, wants and objectives, and the research that we can provide the members.
